

The Honey Badgers are really good. They're so good that Guys really likes them. And I like them too. And so do all of our friends. One day the Honey Badgers all went to the ice rink, the ice rink is where they play ice hockey games at. They played a game at the ice rink. It was good. In the first half the Honey Badgers were sad, but then their friends said it's ok, so then they weren't so sad. Then they were happy because they scored lots of goals and their Mums said that they were good boys. The end.
